

Better patient outcomes,
better bottom line.

“We have seen firsthand the benefits EHRs can provide, and we credit our EHR as the backbone of many of the quality improvements and initiatives that we have implemented.”

Dan Nelson, Practice Administrator
Desert Ridge Family Physicians

Rely on a proven Family Practice solution

As a family practice, you have one of the hardest jobs in healthcare—coordinating your patients' care, while striving to meet healthcare reform demands like Meaningful Use (MU), ICD-10, and population health—all while keeping your practice healthy and efficient.

As healthcare rapidly changes, it's increasingly important to deliver the most comprehensive and efficient patient care possible and to demonstrate improved patient outcomes. That's why you need the right healthcare IT solutions. Our family practice solution can help.

Empowering primary care physicians with fully integrated technology.

Become a future-focused organization. Choose a solution designed for the unique needs of family practice and primary care. Implement NextGen® Ambulatory EHR and NextGen® Practice Management (NextGen PM) as a fully integrated solution, or as standalone applications. Either way, you'll benefit from our extensive knowledge of family practice and primary care.

“Having demographics, scheduling, clinical, and billing in one database makes reporting much easier and more comprehensive than those EHRs with separate databases or separate vendors. Kudos to NextGen for addressing this.”

You are at the helm of better patient care;
get the tools to enable your journey

Better documentation

- Document complex visits, including multiple chief complaints, with a simple point-and-click interface
- Efficiently treat multiple diseases, including diabetes, hypertension, asthma, ADHD, and coronary artery disease, using disease management templates
- Access patient data anytime, anywhere, beyond the point of care

Meet Meaningful Use objectives

- Streamline MU reporting using embedded MU criteria
- Receive MU credits without leaving your workflow

Improve patient outcomes

- Monitor the tests/diagnostics your patients need using health maintenance modules
- Quickly generate and order prescriptions electronically
- Check for harmful drug and allergy interactions

“Moving forward with this technology has been great for the practice. We really feel we’re able to provide the best care and run a good business, which is essential for a small practice.”

Better patient care starts with you

Improve care, communication, and reporting with NextGen Ambulatory EHR. Choose a solution that evolves with the healthcare market, and you, as needs and industry demands change.

Help improve care quality

- Enhance efficiency and care management through better workflow
- Gather and store the data you need in the care guidelines, care plan history, and care coordination templates

Improve communication

- Enable better communication with patients using NextGen® Patient Portal
- Support proactive patient outreach with NextGen® Population Health
- Be interoperable with other disparate systems

Easily meet pay for performance, incentive-based reporting requirements

- Leverage enhanced dashboard reporting for all clinical quality measures – MU, ACO, PQRS, PCMH, and Bridges to Excellence
- Aggregate population records to enable reporting on quality measures, such as follow-up frequencies; prevent readmission and enhance preventative care

Integrate seamlessly with our practice management system via a single database.

The right partner empowers your healthcare transformation

The incredible growth in the healthcare sector is changing the practice of medicine. There are more patient visits than ever, escalating regulatory demands, new collaborative accountable care models, and more jobs (such as care managers and care coordinators).

Because primary care practices like yours are “ground zero” for this transformation in healthcare, it’s more important than ever to have a sustainable and versatile EHR system that’s built to last from the right partner.

Use our primary care tools, resources, and health reform expertise to reach your ACO, MU, and PCMH-related goals. We’ll empower you to succeed and be there every step in your transformation journey.

Transformation in healthcare.

“NextGen provided the pathway to move us from PCMH to MU and now on to ACO, while ensuring continuity between the outpatient and inpatient experience.”
